Before forewords, Prefaces, or Introductions...

There was Johnny.

In Your Mind!

Forget about Johnny! I will introduce you to him in due time. For now, suffice it to say that he is a trusted friend who is often proven to be wiser than I am. The “wiser” quality also makes him a good counselor, and I consult him as needed.

I said to Johnny, “I am considering writing a book about faith. However, I am afraid there is hardly anything to say on the subject; I mean, there is so much already written about faith, is there not?” “Of course there is! But know this,” he said. “The important thing is not how much has been written but how much has been read. And if you press me, I will tell you that more important than both is how much is being lived!”

“Read it to live it! Read it. That is another problem, Johnny. How do I motivate people to read it? You see, I did not hear any voices, I did not have any dreams, visions, or near-death experiences, and I do not want to say that I did.”

“Ah, you want to play the honesty card, huh? Well, it is ok if you don’t want to attract readers that way,” said Johnny. “But if you did, it would not matter anyway. You are writing about faith, right? So, let me tell you about one of the most amazing human leaps of faith: The One and Only Almighty God chooses a human messenger, who, by definition, becomes a ‘go-between’ Him and humanity, and the Lord gives him a message. Therefore, the human takes detailed notes as God presents His message, for the messenger does not want any mistakes or human bias in it. So, it is written down exactly as intended by God. The human is absolutely certain that God Almighty came to him with the message and told him explicitly to spread it around the world, and finally, here it comes, out of the press in the messenger’s book. And now, you too can get these blessings for the modest price of $19.99! In your mind! So, to be chosen as God’s messenger is to hit the lotto!

“It takes an enormous amount of faith to believe that when the God in the Bible comes to a person and tells him ‘Go and pass this message to the world,’ that this messenger would dare to add a delivery price tag to God’s message. I would rather believe that such a person would sell burgers for the rest of his God-given days, just to make the installment payments on the loan he took to mass-produce and distribute God’s message to the world.

“Yeah, it will take some faith to buy your book, but it will not be as much as ‘A message from God’ book would take! Besides, the time will come when we humans will start listening to each other.”

Believe it!

On the surface, it may seem as if the world is facing a crisis of faith. Jesus Himself expressed doubt about it. "...when the Son of man cometh, shall He find faith on the earth?" (Luke 18:8). We shall answer this question with a resounding "Yes!" The faith crisis is an illusion. Believe it!

Greater than a Mustard Seed is written for people of faith, that is to say, for all people regardless their faith object, strength, and direction. Let's not kid ourselves; resembling the action/reaction laws of physics, sometimes a lack of faith in an area entails an equally strong amount of faith in another. If we had zero faith, we would not be able to get out of bed in the morning. Faith and God's image is in us. Have no doubt about it. The reflections that follow are not wholesome or unwholesome in themselves. Greater Than a Mustard Seed is not designed to affirm or negate our faith but to discover it within us. Our faith is a powerful life-supporting pillar, which is essential for harmonious relations with God, humanity, and self.

Discover it, Nurture it, Believe it!
